New city centre for Bratislava.

230 exclusive apartments, each with up to 200m² of living space, were built along a 400m stretch facing the Danube. One special feature is the “Priva-Lites” separating the bathroom and the bedroom.

On Pribinova St there is an IMAX cinema with 300 seats, as well as a Sheraton Hotel with 200 rooms and a two-storey foyer with a 6m-high wine rack. A fitness centre and an entertainment court are also housed here.

The spans had lengths of up to 25m and were bridged with wooden planks weighing around 18 tonnes each; their installation required a crane with a capacity of 6,000kN-m.

Design and shell construction.

The main planning for EUROVEA was completed in August 2008. At peak times there were up to 400 engineers, planners and technical draftsmen working on this project, with a total of 29,500 plans drawn up. The duration of the shell construction phase was not even a whole year.
