Ahead of times – roof renovation including HUM-ID sensors

A total area of 1,400m<sup>2</sup> was renovated, divided between the two buildings. For the first time, the HUM-ID surface detection system was successfully installed in this construction project to ensure long-term monitoring of the waterproofing roof.

A ballasted railing was installed to provide optimal security for maintenance work.

The project was completed and handed over on time and to the complete satisfaction of the client.
