Tramline and a whole new street.

Furthermore, the contract comprised the construction of a 450m long new road.

This project's special challenge consisted in the redirection of all public supply lines. We had to separate them into two special underground channels which ran on the left and right side of the new road.

Impressions

Image notes

1

Full speed ahead.

Compared with buses, the tram line will take over the inflow of passengers with 56% less energy consumption and 30% less operating costs, fully justifying the investment.

2

Apart from the tramline, PORR also renewed 450m of the Stefan cel Mare Street, notably improving traffic conditions.
