A prize-winning bridge.

For the first time in the Czech Republic, a bridge was completely demolished in a single night. PORR was responsible for project preparation, planning and execution. The works were carried out amid great public interest and were successfully completed in November 2013.

In the same year, the bridge received the people's choice award in the "Czech Traffic Constructions - Technologies - Innovations" competition.

Impressions

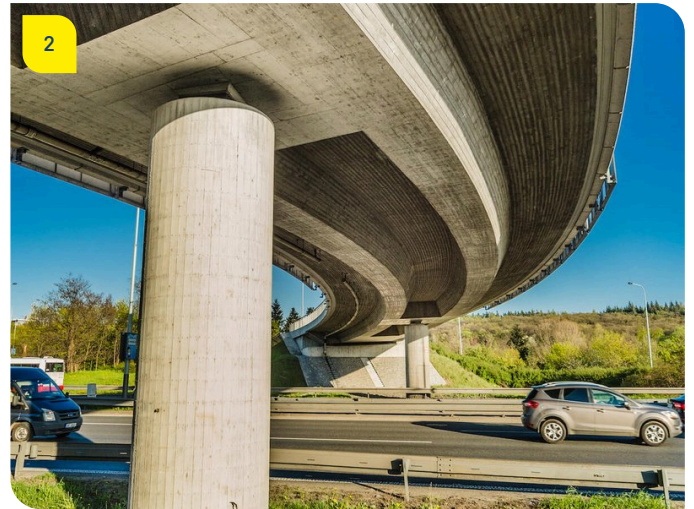

Image notes

1

Uninterrupted traffic, despite renovation works.

During the reconstruction, traffic remained almost entirely uninterrupted.

2

Outstanding construction work.

In 2013, the bridge construction won a well-known prize from the technical transport minister for its innovative execution.

3

Innovative execution.

The solid slab framework is suitable to withstand the weight of present-day traffic on the bridge.

4

Impressive architecture.

The bridge integrates seamlessly with its architectural surrounds.
